• Discover Butlins - Billy did it!

In 1932 Billy Butlin opened his first recreational venue at Bognor Regis, with the first holiday camp opening later in 1960. Much has changed over the last 70 years including the prestigious developments of the Shoreline and Ocean hotels. There is always a lot going on behind the scenes at such a busy and popular modern seaside holiday resort, not just for the staff but also for us. Over the last 12 months Saunders have not only replaced over 2,000 Kw of various boilers and heating equipment manufactured by Powmatic, but also serviced all the gas catering equipment and tumble dryers. Now where did I put my red coat?

• University of Sussex - Master Class

Like Saunders Specialised Services, the University Of Sussex was founded in the 1960's. It is considered one of the most beautiful campus locations in Britain. The University is one of the leading teaching and research institutions in the UK with around 10,000 students in attendance. Saunders Specialised Services are pleased to add the University Of Sussex to their list of clients having recently installed replacement boiler plant and air handing equipment for the University. Other projects have also been successfully carried out for a variety of Mechanical and Electrical requirements in various facilities around the campus. Just like the University, Saunders are also a few Degrees above the rest.

• IAC Engineering – Making light work of it

Like many successful major engineering companies, IAC Engineering rely upon the technical assistance of M&E Companies such as Saunders to not only allow them to continue their day to day activities through annual servicing and maintenance, but when possible reduce their Carbon footprint while doing so. During 2009/2010 Saunders Specialised Services working as an approved supplier for the Carbon Trust, designed and installed a replacement lighting installation consisting of 116 Ansell low-energy light fittings and improved controls. Now the new installation offers greatly improved lighting levels coupled with considerable energy savings, all of which has been funded by a 0% interest free loan from the Carbon Trust. How much of an annual energy and cost saving could you make? Why not let us help you to find out.

• Saunders take on Brighton FC

With modern demands on all professional football clubs these days, it is exciting to see that the Brighton & Hove Albion Club have bravely committed the club and their loyal supporters to another new football ground and sporting facility at Falmer. Before work could commence on the new 22,000 seat stadium, Saunders were given the call up to carry out major enabling works on the gas service in the area to allow the project to get underway. So two of our Seagull supporters swooped into the area fully kitted up to carry out the work in hand, no yellow or red cards were shown at the time, only their Commercial Gas Safe Registration cards were required. We wish the club all the best for the future. Come on you Seagulls.

• Saunders end of term school report

Attendance: Excellent	Attitude: Excellent
Behaviour: Excellent	Effort: Excellent

Based upon the feedback we receive from the Schools, Colleges and Universities our engineers regularly attend, we feel the above gradings would be a fair reflection of our overall performance over the last year.

The spring and summer breaks can be a busy time for our engineers. Saunders Specialised Services regularly carry out servicing and maintenance to all types of gas fired and oil fired boilers, water heaters, catering equipment as well as air conditioning units for many schools around the South of England. For a free quotation for servicing or replacement boilers, water heaters, specialist controls and air conditioning equipment why not give us a call, as these and many other schools have.

• HPC Engineering – They are no wasters

HPC Engineering, based at Burgess Hill, produce a vast amount of waste oil as a by-product from many of their engineering processes. Rather than pay to dispose of the waste oil, the company engaged Saunders to install a Kroll waste oil heater unit to provide heating to one of their warehouses on site. Energy saving de-stratification and door curtains were also added to reduce heat lose in the area. Kroll static and mobile oil burners are capable of using animal, vegetable and conventional oil, so if your company has such a surplus maybe it could be used to provide heating at your facility. So don't waste time, don't waste oil, give us a call.

• REFCOM - Life's a gas gas gas

Refcom regulate companies involved in air conditioning work involving fluorinated gases. It was set up in 1994 in response to atmospheric damage caused by certain refrigerant gases. It is now illegal to work on AC units without being a member of Refcom. As a registered company, Saunders regularly carry out installation and maintenance work for clients such as Broughtons Of Surrey, Hemming Renault, Brighton University and the Hilton Hotel Group. So if you have any AC equipment where you are that may need servicing before the summer, don't get hot and bothered about all the legal red tape, just chill out and let us handle it for you.

• Heathrow, Luton, & Stansted airports

Flying High with Alpha Flight 'Making the travellers day better is about knowing what the customer wants' is one of the slogans for Alpha Flight. Alpha Flight Services provide in flight meals for many major airlines including Emirates and American Airlines. Knowing what the customer wants and being able to deliver it is also important to Saunders. We have carried out boiler and water heater servicing at Gatwick for many years, and we are pleased to announce our services have now been extended to Heathrow, Luton and Stansted airports.

• Saunders - Flushed with success

Feeling a bit cold, sluggish, under performing, making a strange gurgling sound? Does that sound like your boiler or heating system? You might need a POWER FLUSH! We could unleash a new lease of life into your installation with the aid of our power flush machine manufactured for domestic and commercial applications by the industry leader Kamco. A high percentage of boilers and heating installations will suffer from corrosion and sludge deposits over the years, reducing the performance and efficiency. To reduce your fuel bills and improve your system why not treat your heating installation to a good flush through, you will all feel better for it.
